STEERING COMMITTEE REPORTS

CORPORATE COORDINATOR'S REPORT

This month's Steering Committee meeting was a long one again, so I'll try to summarize for you the topics discussed and decisions made.

A major organizational change is the merger of two committees, Marketing and Subscriptions Development, into one committee called the Marketing/Advertising Committee with Willie Nevison serving as chair, and the creation of a new committee called Special Projects with Yolanda Ortiz as chair.

Willie's group will be handling promotional materials, press releases and advertising, including soliciting ads for our newsletter, and doing the marketing for SACWN. Yolanda's group has already been assigned three special projects, including the design and implementation of a subscriber survey for this fall, an exploration of fundraising possibilities for the future, and more immediately, an analysis of exactly how our current organizational structure functions. She's supposed to come up with specific recommendations for ways to improve efficiency, avoid duplication of effort, and streamline operations by August. Anyone of you interested in either of these committees should contact Willie or Yolanda to help in these important projects. Serving on committees are a fun way to meet others, too!

Planning has begun for programs for 1990. If you have speakers or programs you would like to see brought to SACWN, contact Joanna Cassese via the SACWN P. O. Box, or drop your written suggestions at the HUB. All ideas are welcome, and the Program Committee would welcome your help too if you want to take part in shaping our programs.

The Steering Committee directed the Special Events Committee to investigate the possibility of having a December program. They decided they to switch the Holiday Party to December, and have a special evening of music (a cabaret-type event) for November. Watch future issues of the newsletter for more details.

Networking is developing the long awaited SACWN Directory, which will be a networking tool for all who wish to be listed for their professional and business services. Look for the Directory Information Form elsewhere in the newsletter.

Finally, you may have noticed the ad for Women's Employment Services and Training in this newsletter. They have been kind enough to let us use their meeting room for Steering Committee meetings, so we have a consistent meeting place which guarantees space and privacy.

That's all for this month. Happy Spring!

Rosemary Mettrailer
Corporate Coordinator

FINANCE COORDINATOR'S REPORT

The Steering Committee would like to take this opportunity to THANK all of our subscribers for your support of the SLIDING FEES we implemented at the March Program. It is encouraging to know that our lesbian sisters living on a limited income, whether they are senior citizens, students or differently abled can now join our organization and enrich our lives with their involvement.

We are greatly encouraged by the honesty and integrity of our empathetic subscribers and their willingness to pay the Standard Ticket Price while they are not living on a limited income. We realize no one would ever chose to live on a limited income and therefore be struggling to pay SACWN's Standard Ticket Price. We also realize there has been some confusion as to our definition of limited income. For the record, we consider a person living on a limited income to be anyone who is having a difficult time paying for basic necessities (food, utilities and rent) and who rarely considers entertainment as part of their budget.

There may be a few of our sisters who would be embarrassed to admit they are living on a limited income. For the record, we have no intention of ever publicizing a list of subscribers who need to receive these discounts. We are also confident that when those of you using these discounts are no longer living on a limited income, you will proudly pay the Standard Ticket Price so that we can continue to offer these discounts.

NEWSLETTER COMMITTEE REPORT

The Newsletter Committee has been very busy trying to create a look that you can be proud of, and we encourage you to write us with any suggestions or criticisms you might have. We need your help to continue to make it look and read well. So please give us some feedback! Write and let us know what you think!

Beginning next issue, we would like to celebrate special dates/days (Anniversaries, Birthdays) in your lives. In order to do this, we need you to write and give us that information. So if you will be celebrating a SPECIAL DATE/DAY and you would like to share it with us, please let us know.

I would like to applaud and thank all my committee members, especially Suzy our Editor, and Joan G. our layout and design person. Thanks for all the hard work and support. Without you, this newsletter would not be the publication it is today.

Lydia Roseby, Newsletter Coordinator
Suzy, Editor

NETWORKING COMMITTEE REPORT

The Networking Committee has been busy creating ways to further promote networking in our growing organization. These are the projects we are working on:

THE SACWN DIRECTORY

In this newsletter and at future SACWN events, we will be soliciting names and businesses to list in the SACWN Directory. We plan to publish the directory sometime this summer. We hope to create a tool that will enhance communication and networking among our subscribers. Please take a minute now to fill out the Directory form that will place you among your peers. Thank you to Sharon Liberatore and Rosanna Heber who are coordinating this project.

SPECIAL INTEREST GROUPS

Are you looking for a way to meet other women who share your interests? Last month the newsletter described all of the Special Interest Groups active in SACWN. (There are 10 groups and we are still growing!) You can sign up for these groups at the HUB or call Ellie Zacks, Special Interest Group Coordinator at (916) 967-0611. You can also call Ellie with ideas for additional special interest groups. You are doing a great job Ellie!

JUNE NETWORKING PROGRAM

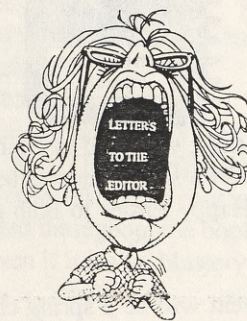

The Networking Committee is responsible for the upcoming June 16th SACWN program. We will be meeting on April 10th at Rosanna's house to brainstorm ideas for making this program creative, fun, and inspiring. If you would like to join the Networking Committee in envisioning this evening, call Rosanna at (916) 443-6879.

THE HUB

Whenever you come to a SACWN meeting be sure to look for the HUB. All kinds of information related to SACWN like Special Interests Groups, Subscriber Application Forms, SACWN Steering Committee meeting minutes, the SACWN Constitution, and SACWN newsletters are available for your review. We also display materials related to community events. You will find the greeters at the HUB to be very friendly and helpful. Thanks to Linda Kingsley for managing the operations of the HUB.

Finally, the Networking Committee is wondering if we have subscribers who are printers or woodworkers. Please call Rosanna if you have these skills.

Rosanna Heber, Networking Coordinator
Ellie Zacks, Networking Associate

I have a joke that even Joanne Cassese wouldn't tell.
QUESTION: How many Lesbians does it take to make announcements at a SACWN meeting?

ANSWER: 57 - One to make the announcements and 56 to talk while she is trying to make them.

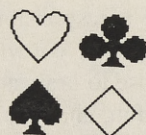

Not funny? Well neither was the conduct of at least that many members of the audience during the announcements at the March meeting.

Let's face it. Announcements at a Lesbian event is a community tradition like the pledge of allegiance at a meeting of the American Legion. And you wouldn't talk through that would you? Then we can show ourselves at least that much respect.

SOUTH OF THE LINE

by Catherine Ennis

Published by NAIAD PRESS

Reviewed by Gretchen Jung - SACWN Book Group

Are you looking for a good book to curl up with on one of these cold blustery days? You know the type of day when all you want is a good "trashy" book, a warm fire, and maybe some of that flavored coffee that they sell on TV. Well, have I got the book for you! For the fire and coffee you're on your own.

The book is SOUTH OF THE LINE by Catherine Ennis who also wrote TO THE LIGHTNING. Now I liked TO THE LIGHTNING once I was able to suspend my disbelief. But suspending disbelief was not easy. In this Ennis' second novel, there is no such problem. SOUTH OF THE LINE is an adventure-love story set during the Civil War. One of the things I like best about Lesbian novels is that there is not one passive heroine but usually two active HEROINES. So it is here. The first character introduced is Faith who has lost her home and family to a fire and is forced to earn her keep by being a teacher or governess. She is introduced to a distant cousin, Dominique, and is to be the governess to Dominique's two children. The problem is that the children have been sent to New Orleans for safe keeping and Faith and Dominique are in Nashville. The major adventure transpires while they are traveling from Nashville to New Orleans. There is also minor adventure while still in Nashville having to do with the underground railway.

Now you may have noticed the word "trashy" above. That refers to the thing that I really like best about Lesbian novels, SEX ! SOUTH OF THE LINE has some sex, not too explicit, but enough to keep your interest. And it's generously sprinkled throughout the book.

A good read even if it isn't a blustery day.

LLEGO — A NATIONAL LATINA/O ORGANIZATION FORMED

Condensed reprint from LLEGO Newsletter
Submitted by Yolanda Ortiz

During the same weekend of the National March on Washington back in October of 1987, a group of lesbian Latinas and gay Latinos met to reflect on their identities as gay/lesbian Latinas/os. Representatives from thirteen states and 33 cities gathered to what has been since called the Primer Encuentro, sponsored by the National Latina/o Lesbian and Gay Activists. This first meeting, Primer Encuentro, furnished the group with the challenge to create a national organization.

February 20th and 21st, 1988, participants from the Primer Encuentro met again. This Segundo Encuentro's purpose was to begin work on a set of by-laws and to select a name for the new organization. They decided to name the organization The Latina/o Lesbian and Gay Organization (LLEGO).

Board members were elected from different regions of the United States to assure representation and a grant in the amount of $2,500 was received from the National March on Washington Committee to establish a national office for LLEGO. Washington, D. C. was the chosen location for the national office. LLEGO intends to form a national organization which will effectively address the concerns of the lesbian and gay Latina/o communities locally, statewide, nationally and internationally. LLEGO wants to develop a nationwide network which will facilitate the sharing of information and resources and also plans to provide a forum for awareness, understanding and recognition of the lesbian and gay Latina/o identities including alternative lifestyles and roles in "la comunidad". In addition, LLEGO plans to formulate and sustain a national agenda for the impact of AIDS, ARC, HIV+ and other health-related issues in the lesbian and gay Latina/o community.

LLEGO has and will continue to meet at various locations throughout the country in order to promote participation. During 1988, regional meetings were held in Los Angeles, California, Houston, Texas, and Boston, Massachusetts. LLEGO encourages Lesbian Latinas, Gay Latinos, and other supporters to assist with the growth of the organization. For more information, call (213) 665-2367 or write to: LLEGO, P. O. Box 30438, Los Angeles, CA 90030.

LET'S BE DIRECT!

SACWN is an organization committed to networking among women. One of the prime tools in achieving such an objective is the development of a directory.

SACWN invites you to be a part of our directory. The directory will be comprised of "White pages" which will list members alphabetically and "yellow pages" which will focus on professional and business services of our subscribers. All listings will be SACWN subscribers and the directory will be available only to subscribers. Because of confidentiality issues, we will not identify ourselves as a lesbian organization, but rather a women's organization.

You can list yourself in the "white pages" by filling out the form below and returning it to the HUB or sending it to the SACWN business office. No names will be listed without the permission of the subscriber. If you would like to advertise your business or profession, please check the appropriate box below and we will contact you about advertising rates.

JOAN UEBELHOER MAKES ELIZABETH CADY STANTON COME ALIVE!

The wearing of the green and a step back into history were the highlights of the March 17 SACWN program.

Using words from Mrs. Stanton's speeches, diaries, and other writings, Joan became Elizabeth and we felt the power and pain of this brilliant, witty woman who was the pioneer of the feminist movement.

As a young wife and mother, Elizabeth joined with Susan B. Anthony and Lucretia Mott to champion the rights of women - particularly their right to vote.

We followed the history of the suffrage movement from its early days in Seneca Falls, New York to the death of Elizabeth in 1902 - eighteen years before her dream became a reality.

Elizabeth was outspoken, articulate and courageous. Her willingness to step beyond the conventions of Victorian womanhood shook the foundations of a male-controlled world and created the context for a change we now all enjoy.

She was honored and respected for her sense of humor, articulate phraseology and strong personality. But her fearless advocacy of controversial causes frightened both the males in power and the woman in the "cause" who did not wish to appear "radical".

We are still fighting today for many of the issues she espoused - child care, peace, battered women, marriage laws and economic equality for women.

The life and words of Elizabeth Cady Stanton inspire us with her energy and dedication. Her influence empowers us with freedom and pride in being both women and lesbians.

Joan Uebelhoer portrays Mrs. Stanton in both a theatrical and real sense. Joan has been active in the Women's movement since the 1960's and was the co-founder of the Ft. Wayne Indiana Feminists. Rosemary Mettrailer, the founder of SACWN and a long-time friend of Joan, acknowledged the inspiration from Joan which was the impetus behind the energy that founded SACWN, Inc.

Thank you Elizabeth, Joan, and Rosemary for being women of courage, commitment and inspiration.

BOOK REVIEW

WOMAN PLUS WOMAN

by Dolores Klaich

Published by Naiad Press

Reviewed by Bernadette

In writing WOMAN PLUS WOMAN, Dolores Klaich intended it to be a social history of lesbianism. In the prelude, she further expanded on this intention by stating, "This book, in its examination of some past and present attitudes toward the phenomenon of lesbianism, was undertaken to ensure (in its own small way) that the present dialogue on the subject of homosexuality will continue."

The book is divided into three parts. Part I outlines some of the sexual, medical, psychological and scientific research that has been conducted in the field of female homosexuality. A review of this research certainly points out the need for additional studies. Ms. Klaich provides us with a quick review of the conclusions about homosexuality of Krafft-Ebing, Freud, Kinsey, Bergler, Reuben and others. Utilizing commentaries and case studies, we get a glimpse of the misunderstanding, loneliness and pain of early lesbians.

As quoted in the book, Radclyffe Hall in THE WELL OF LONELINESS had her lesbian heroine plead, "I'm some awful mistake — God's mistake."

Part II is aptly labeled "Historic Witnesses". In it, we are treated with a brief overview of the lives of famous lesbians and "maybe" lesbians.

Beginning with Sappho and excerpts from her beautiful poetry and continuing with Renee Vivian, Natalie Clifford Barney, Radclyffe Hall, Gertrude Stein and Virginia Woolf; we receive a brief but interesting history of these dynamic women. In the book it was suggested that "if the general public realized how many outstanding women of our times are lesbian, this realization would, if not change their attitude toward lesbianism, at least make them consider it a bit more realistically, and make them hesitate somewhat before pronouncing wholesale censure."

Part III discusses the gay rights movement and the results of a questionnaire completed by some lesbians. The book states a disclaimer about the questionnaire, since it is not a scientific study, but the thoughts and experiences of individual lesbians. If anything, the responses affirm the fact that we cannot be stereotyped. Our viewpoints and beliefs vary as the rest of humankind.

Overall, the book points out that "We've come a long way." The writing style tends to be scattered, but the book raised this reviewer's interest level in all three of the areas covered. Perhaps Ms. Klaich could expand each of her three parts into definitive studies of research, history and attitudes. This book whets your appetite for more.

Reading WOMAN PLUS WOMAN will impart to you a sense of history and pride. This reviewer highly recommends WOMAN PLUS WOMAN to both lesbians and those who wish to learn more about lesbians.
